

Health professionals who know their patients and who understand Prader-Willi syndrome provide the best treatment to their patients.

Join the IPWSO Health ECHO!

Doing More for More Patients

IPWSO’s mission in collaborating with the Project ECHO® initiative, is to unite the global Prader-Willi syndrome (PWS) community, to spread knowledge, and to reach underserved populations.

Together, we can find solutions to the challenges of PWS and build knowledge and centres of excellence supporting people living with PWS across the world.

Programme Overview

Start date: 16 February 2021 – 09:00 – 10:30 (GMT)
Timing: 10 Monthly sessions each lasting 90mins.
Format: Online, using Zoom Video Conferencing.

- Short, focused presentations on PWS across the lifespan delivered by medical experts.
- Case-based learning from anonymised cases presented by participants.

There is no cost – Register Now

Benefits of Becoming a Part of the ECHO community

 Access Communities	 Reduce Disparities
 Promote Consistency	 Rapid Dissemination
 Increase Professional Knowledge	 Isolation Decrease

This IPWSO Health ECHO programme will be of interest to a wide range of health professionals including: Geneticists, Paediatric Endocrinologists, Neonatologists, Nurses, Paediatricians, Endocrinologists, Psychiatrists, Psychologists, Social Workers, Occupational Therapists, Pulmonologists, Orthopaedic Surgeons, Dieticians, Physiotherapists, Speech and Language Therapists, Medical Students and Professional Caregivers.

Register here: ipwso.org

The IPWSO Project ECHO® educational programmes currently include a Leadership, a Health and an SPW Latino American ECHO. These are designed to build capacity and expertise in PWS using the ECHO Model™ and an “all teach, all learn” approach. For more information on IPWSO Project ECHO, visit <https://ipwso.org/how-we-can-help/project-echo> or email us echo@ipwso.org

Acknowledgements: IPWSO is grateful to Pfizer Inc., for supporting the ECHO® programmes by way of an Independent Medical Education Grant. IPWSO is solely responsible for the content of the programmes and the selection of presenters, authors and moderators and/or faculty (“Faculty”). Pfizer Inc. does not direct or influence the content of the programmes and does not participate in the selection of the “Faculty”. Presenters are required to complete a Meaningful Disclosure of Supports at the outset of presentations. IPWSO acknowledges that the International Academy of CPD Accreditation Consensus Statement (“IACPDA Consensus Statement”, at <https://academy4cpd-accreditation.org>) is a benchmark for independence in continuing medical education (CME) funding and will adhere to the IACPDA Consensus Statement with respect to the IPWSO ECHO® programmes and the funding even if the programmes are not accredited or certified CME.

