

2023 Funding Sources at a Glance

IPWSO receives funding from the healthcare industry, donations from individuals, organisations and national associations, grants from foundations and philanthropies, membership subscriptions, and registration fees from conferences.

In 2023 IPWSO received funding from the following sources:

Industry related income
Name of company/funder	Amount of Income	Percentage of total income
Soleno Therapeutics	21000	10
Acadia Pharmaceuticals	10000	5
Aardvark Therapeutics	7500	4
OT4B	5465	3
Gedeon Richter Plc	5000	2
ConSynance Therapeutics	2500	1
	51465	25
Non-Industry related income
Source of funding	Amount of income	Percentage of total income
Grants from Foundations and Philanthropies
Friends of IPWSO (USA)	86213	41
European Society for Paediatric Endocrinology	435	0
General Donations & Member Donations	30825	15
Major Donor - Jean Phillips-Martinsson	25033	12
Member subscriptions	9763	5
Investments	4528	2
	156797	75
Total income 2023	208262

The percentage of IPWSO's income provided by industry partners in 2023 was 25%. (13%* in 2022) The largest single industry donor in 2023 was Soleno Therapeutics.

* Includes indirect funding for IPWSO's 2022 conference.