

Call for abstracts - Clinical and Scientific Program

United in Hope 2025 PWS Conference

Arizona Grand Resort & Spa

Phoenix, Arizona, USA

June 25-26, 2025

Abstract submission is now open!

The United in Hope: PWS Clinical and Scientific Conference will feature oral presentations and poster sessions highlighting advances in clinical, translational, and basic science research of Prader-Willi syndrome (PWS). This highly interdisciplinary conference also includes invited speakers from relevant fields of science outside of PWS.

Join us for this unique opportunity to connect with scientists and clinicians from across the globe to learn about the latest advances in the PWS field. Please follow the guidelines at the end of the document to submit your abstract.

Desired topics include, but are not limited to:

1. Genetics and Epigenetics
2. Cellular and Molecular Biology of PWS
3. Preclinical Development of Novel Therapeutics
5. Neuroscience, Cognition, Mental Health and Behavior
6. Advances in Endocrinology
7. Gastrointestinal Issues and Nutrition
8. Other Medical Issues (e.g., Orthopedics, Sleep)
9. Clinical Trials
10. Advances in Clinical Care Across the Lifespan: Medical issues in infants, children, adolescents, adults and the aging PWS population
